I read that today is the day that protesters are set to demonstrate against the SOGI curriculum and inclusive educational practices in B.C. schools. I'm writing you to indicate my personal support for the uncompromising continued commitment to the principle of inclusive education in the face of forces that may feel otherwise. So very many students both current and future and indeed society in general demand the growth of awareness versus the expansion of ignorance/intolerance and resulting negative impacts intolerant attitudes and actions give rise to.

Thank you for your commitment.

Ian Morris
